CLUB NEWS

The Overlook

The Overlook was debuted with a complementary social for about 80 members and guests on Friday, June 20th with a few hors d'oeuvres and some words from the ownership group. Chef Marco was introduced by Peter Anzo, while recognizing Antonio Gonzalez and Jen Price for the outstanding work they have been doing in the absence of a chef.

The overall consensus is that The Overlook is an exciting addition to the Waterfall Club portfolio and the staff is working hard to figure out how to best serve our members while utilizing the lounge seating, fire pit, bocce court and bar area. The proximity to the children's area, game room and theater open up many opportunities for families of all ages to utilize the space. We will have our favorite game on the TV over the outdoor bar and the bocce court ready to go!

Introducing Al Fresco Dining at The Overlook!

Beginning Sunday July 13th, and each Sunday weather permitting Chef Marco will bring casual cuisine down to The Overlook. Happy hour begins at 4:30 pm with drink and beer specials.

Casual dining from 5:30 to 8:30 pm is $22 per person and will include a cold assortment of green and prepared salads. Gourmet hamburgers, American style all beef Kosher hot dogs, and Chicago Dogs will come straight from the grill to your plate. For an additional charge choose a filet mignon, New York strip, Springer Mountain Farms breast of chicken, or the Catch of the Week. Waterfall's Pastry Chef will finish it all off with a Sweet Table of various house-made desserts.

Thursday to Saturday The Overlook is serving the Good Eats menu and drinks from either the downstairs or upstairs bar, depending upon demand.

Reservations are not taken for casual lounging, unless you have more than 8 people in your party.

If so, please do let us know you are coming so our staff can properly prepare.

IMPROVE YOUR GAME

Golf requires as much of a warm-up as physical activity. Many golfers rarely perform one. They simply walk or drive to the range, hit a few balls, maybe chip and putt a little, but never spend a single minute stretching the body.

Warming up not only helps you maximize your golf swing but, your muscles are prepared for stress and it also helps prevent injury to keep you on the course all season.

The three golf stretches below focus on the major parts of the golf swing to help you drop your scores in no time!

Standing Twist:

Begin with a Standing Twist while keeping your hips and legs stationary. Hug yourself and twist approximately 90 degrees to loosen your back. Repeat the twist bilaterally. Twist 20 times per side. Once you have done this a few rounds in a row, try adding a 9 iron and pitching wedge held across your upper body to add focus to the movement.

Overhead Triceps Stretch:

Perform a static Overhead Triceps Stretch three times for 20 seconds per side to loosen up the largest portion of your upper arms. This will provide flexibility and strength to the biggest muscle group in your arms, assisting your power throughout the golf swing.

Dynamic Lunge With Twist:

This is where you need to decide if you want to shoot your lowest score or answer probing questions from your golfing buddies. Perform a Dynamic Lunge and Twist. Do one set of 12 reps twisting toward the side of your lead leg. You can do this in place with your lead foot bringing you back to your starting position and then alternating. This movement continues the warm-up for the twisting motion of the swing, but it also adds firing of the leg muscles to give you maximum distance for 18 holes.

Try this short golf stretching routine it's guarantee you will record lower scores this golf season. Preparing your muscles before each round is part of the daily routine for most professionals to maximize their potential on the course, whether for a major tournament or a practice round.

Personal Fitness Training

This golf season remember to make your massage appointment after your round of golf. Give us a 48 hour notice before your round of golf and receive 20% off your same day massage.

Fitness Director Dave Linn has been a great addition to the Waterfall Management Team. Besides his "can do" attitude, Dave has demonstrated an exceptional skill at personal training and motivation to help individuals achieve their health and fitness goals. Stop by and get to know him. Dave will be happy to drop a hint or two, or setup something more formal like a personalized workout program. Waterfall Club member Sheryl Trower has been quite impressed.

"I have been working with Dave Linn as my personal trainer for about a month. He pushes me each week to meet my goals and encourages me when I think I can't do one more rep! His method of training includes intervals of two minute segments. I'm thrilled with the results I am getting!"

Introducing your new Chef of Waterfall Club

Waterfall Club overlooking Lake Burton just got even more distinctive with the recent hiring of 20-year culinary veteran Marco Arguelles as executive chef. Arguelles has worked at some of the most prestigious private clubs in the country. He most recently was executive chef and food & beverage director at Escondido Golf & Lake Club, an award-winning club community in the Texas Hill Country. Prior to that Arguelles was executive chef at Old Marsh Club, an elite private golf club in Palm Beach that is the recipient of BoardRoom Magazine's Distinguished Clubs of the World award. He previously was executive chef at English Turn Golf and Country Club in New Orleans over several of the years when the club hosted a stop on the PGA Tour. During his time in the Crescent City, Arguelles worked many charity events with renowned chefs like Emeril Lagasse and Paul Prudhomme, with whom he became close friends.

A Certified Executive Chef® by the American Culinary Federation, Arguelles considers fusion cuisine as his trademark. Raised in New Orleans, his cooking is informed by the Creole and Cajun culinary traditions. Yet, he also brings to bear his classical training in French cuisine along with the timeless tastes of his Hispanic roots.

The Club is excited to welcome Chef Marco. During the recruiting process and even in his first couple of weeks at the Club he has shown creativity, passion for cooking and a dedication to excellence will certainly enhance the club experience for our members.
